From the Pastor's Desk

How does God help us to be free men?

Christ wants us to be "set free for freedom"(see Gal 5:1) and to become capable of brotherly love. That is why he sends us the Holy Spirit, who makes us free and independent of worldly powers and strengthens us for a life of love and responsibility.

The more we sin, the more we think only about ourselves and the less well we can develop freely. In sinning we also become more inept at doing well and practicing charity. The Holy Spirit, who has come down into our hearts, gives us a heart that is filled with love for God and mankind. We avail ourselves of the Holy Spirit as the power that leads us to inner freedom, opens our hearts for love, and makes us better instruments for what is good and loving.

Words of Pope Francis

Holiness is not only about the spirit: it is also the feet that take us to our brothers and sisters, and the hands that allow us to help them.

Thought for the Day

"We cannot all do great things but we can do small things with great love" St. Teresa of Calcutta

Today's Special Collection for Vocations, Youth and Family Programs.

Your generosity is appreciated to support these important programs. Here are some reflections about the impact of programs offered to the young people in our Diocese through the Vocations' Office. Fr. John Perdue, Director of Vocations, Diocese of Peterborough.

"Whether Carpenter's Cup retreats, Vocation hockey events, or other Vocations activities, I always go away feeling encouraged to grow in my Faith and be open to the priesthood. I've really appreciated the opportunity to spend time with other Faith-filled young men and priests and I find there is always a positive atmosphere. The Vocations activities are helping me learn what is means to be a true man."
Caleb Duketow, Grade 11, St. Peter's High School, Peterborough

"The Peterborough Vocations Office uses the community's generous donations to host retreats and other events that help to develop supportive relationships and feed the youth, spiritually and physically! The Vocations Office has played a key role in my own spiritual development and in strengthening my relationship with Jesus. I've learned valuable discernment skills and used them in my own life to discern the next steps now that my University education has come to an end." Elizabeth Rylski, 2018 Graduate of Trent University

"Over the past few years the Quo Vadis young men's discernment program has offered me tremendous spiritual growth and has taught me a great deal. Without Quo Vadis many young men like myself may not get the direction that they need in life to live for Christ. This program is essential for young men in the direction of their faith and has only brought great success in leading young men to Christ."
Hayden Milburn, parishioner of St. Joseph's Parish, Bowmanville
